Hitachi & Sony Discontinue Production of Popular Print Kits

What you need to know

Hitachi has discontinued the manufacture of print kits for their VY-170 and VY-190 and other privately labeled printers. And Sony has discontinued kits for its UP-2200, CVP-G500 & 700 printers.

Unfortunately, we have not found any manufacturer that is producing a comparable product nor have we found any current product that will work with these printers.

Don't Worry! TELCOR has the solution.

For dentists whose intra-oral camera is working fine and they're happy with their systems and for customers with other applications that are happy with their cameras, the answer is simple. Just replace your printer. TELCOR has replaced many Hitachi and older Sony printers with the new Sony UP-20.

Sony UP-20 Analog Color Printer

The UP-20 color printer successfully combines high quality with affordable pricing. The printer's new compact design allows for easy integration with other video equipment. The UP-20 is the ideal choice for the dental market, as well as office or scientific lab applications.

Superby Print Quality and Color Reproduction at approximately 400 DPI

Compact size

High speed printing...approx. 20 sec.

Four Frame Memory

Convenient Remote Control or Footswitch capability

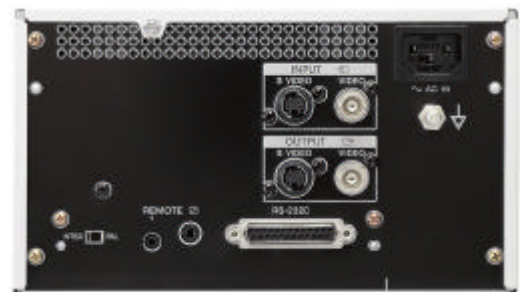

2 or 4-Split Image Print Mode

Why a Sony UP-20?

Most new owners have found that the hookup was easy using the same cables and wiring. And the menu driven set-up was simple.

Now they're experiencing:

- Better resolution
- Less expensive prints
- The same format or better You can print 1, 2, 4, 8 or 15 different images per sheet
- The same "paper & ribbon" process
- Multiply color adjustment options
- Caption options

Why TELCOR?

If you're shopping for the cheapest price?
We don't have it.

But what we do have is:

- New equipment delivered straight from Sony & Mitsubishi
- An A+ rating from the Better Business Bureau
- A secure website and a processing system that keeps your information secure and confidential
- Customer service that doesn't end with running your credit card.
- Technicians with over 20 years of experience to advise and assist you.
- And we will give you a $10 coupon every time you order. Each coupon can be used for one order placed online.

*TELCOR provides value
at a fair price.*

Why Not Digital?

Will it make you more profitable?

And is it worth the:

- Extensive down time
- Training
- All the headaches that accompany computers, new equipment and software.
